A fall,1967.issue of the Southern Planter carried the following under the heading Have a Family Historian:Every family ought to have a family historian--someone to keep the family bible up-to-date,keep records of births,deaths and other pertinent information.History is being made everyday.Unless someone records the facts today,they may be lost forever.Family tradition and lore,known only to older person alive today who doesn't regret his or her failure to write down family stories and incidents told to trhem as children by their eldres.Family history is a fascinating and rewarding hobby for young people---one thta can endear a boy or girl to his relatives forever.

And that folks is all of page 397.Hope I didn't miss any words or leave anything out.

Audrey
